Washington, March 4.- The next step in President Wilson's fight to dispose of the armed ship agitation in congress has been postponed until Tuesday. At a conference today administration leaders in the house decided not to insist on a vote today. This afternoon the rules committee will meet to frame a rule to table the McLemore resolution to warn Americans off the armed ships of the European belligerents. The rule will be brought in with the first business Tuesday when the administration forces plan to dispose of it by a substantial majority. The foreign affairs committee already has agreed upon the resolution. Administration forces plan that the action in the house shall give no room for doubts of the decisive character of the sentiment in congress. They plan that the action to table the McLemore resolution which will include a declaration that the president shall handle diplomatic affairs without congressional interference. The leaders are confident they have the votes to make their victory complete and undisputed. Leaders explained that the postponement was agreed upon because of the absence of so many members on week-end trips. Many left yesterday under the impression, it was said, that the house session today, which began at ten o'clock, was to end at noon and would consider only claim bills. Majority Leader Kitchin soon after noon began notifying members that they would not be needed to vote until next Tuesday at the earliest. The conference adjourned with no formal action except a decision to hold a rule: committee meeting at two o'clock today. A so-called gentlemen's agreement was made not to have a vote before Tuesday

Washington, March 4.—Aroused by the publication of reports yesterday that President Wilson, because of the strain of the foreign situation was considering resigning from office, the White House today issued this formal s'atement:

"When Secretary Tumulty's attention was called to the story appearing in certain papers that the president had resigned or was considering resigning he said, An American newspaper that would publish a story of that kind in a situation like the one which new confronts America dishonors itself."

The price of the big, powerful Overland Six (Model 86) will

Prices of other Sixes are advancing. Prices of Sixes recently amounced on new models, are higher. In fact, comparatively figuring, prices of practically all Sixes are now far in excess of the Overland.

On the basis of present prices of raw materials a Six of the Overland quality would have to sell at a much higher price.

But due to a little foresight in purchasing we escaped having to pay premiums for raw materials—hence the price of the Overland Six is not increased.

This in spite of the fact that prices of all steels are up from 100% to 150%; that the price of aluminum has gone from about 20 cents a pound to over 50 cents a pound; that the price of copper has more than doubled; that tires and other accessories have had a sharp advance.

We cannot guarantee that this present price of $1145 will hold indefinitely.

The serious condition of the material market makes that

But the quality is not lowered; and for the present price

Just compare the size, power, flexibility and quality of the Overland Six motor; the length of the wheelbase—the seating capacity, the finish, the equipment, the comforts, the conveniences and improvements of the Overland Six with all others and you'll find no valid reason for paying more than $1145 for a six cylinder automobile.

Rebuild Your Lost Strength with PERUNA—a good tonic

PERUNA is a good tonic and because it has special

Because PERUNA is a good tonic and because it has special reference to catarrhal conditions its use in the weakness following Grip has proven very beneficial. It clears up the system of all the poisonous matter left after the attack, gives tone and strength to the digestive organs and overcomes the congestion and infommation. What it has done for thousands is well told in the letter below.

Dodging Taxes

Is Like Treating a Cancer With Salve-Temporary Relief

Tax day is approaching. Some men will dodge their taxes temporarily—some even succeed until after death and then the estate pays the dedged taxes with a fifty per cent penalty added. But there is always a reckening day.

Go get your Bradstreet or Dun and look up men rated high in credit and then look up the personal tax re-turns. There are thousands of farmers of ordinary means who pay more taxes than men rated high in commercial reports. These men have investments in non-taxable securities, either stocks or bonds. The Dollings Company. with assets of over a million dollars and a highly specialized service, offers a large list of Municipal bonds and tax free securities to investors who want to make an honest return and still receive the best income, consistent with

Germany's "Spring Drive" WHAT WILL IT COUNT FOR?

With the results of the German efforts still uncertain, the correspondents are speculating over their meaning and the motives behind them.

Does Germany expect to win a decision in the West, to force France to make peace by taking Verdun, breaking through to the French line and again moving on Paris? Or, is she merely fortifying herself against an expected Allied drive, acting on the principle that the best defense is an attack? Or. is she merely after local gains, or trying to regain the ground lost last fall? Or, as some French writers hint, has military strategy been subordinated to political or dynastic considerations?

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for March 4th, the views of the American press, and war correspondents are incorporated in a comprehensive article which also includes maps, showing the Allies' losses.

He Who Hears But One Bell Hears But One Sound

Independently thinking Americans are applying this Belgian proverb to their own reading. The publication which strikes the same note incessantly, which defends one side in right or in wrong, which presents arguments always one-sided, naturally is sounding but one bell. That's one reason why so many people are reading THE LITERARY DIGEST. This non-partizan weekly picks the keynote of the contentions of all sides and builds up a harmony of the truth that makes its readers appre-ciate the value of every version of the news. Get the news-chimes in The Digest.

GERMANS USED DEAD TO FORM BARRICADE

BILL ABRAHAMS

Paris, March 4.—An episode of the battle of Verdun is told by a wounded man who has arrived here, who was posted in a quarry at Louvemont on the Meuse Heights. He says: "The a quarry at Louvemont on the Meuse Heights. He says: "The quarry ended at the rear in a deep cave running under the plateau of which the Germans would advance to the attack. A detuchment to which I belonged took refuge in the cave, while the heavy bomberdment, Insting 48 hours was going on and after which the attack was delivered. Arriving at the top of the plateau, the Germans dug an opening into the cave from above, but were prevented from entering, as they saw us with a machine gun ready to receive them. In the meantime, they had get into the cave grown as that pure for any detachment had a maching gin rendy to receive them. In the meaning, they had got into the quarry, so that purt of our deficient had to ruch forward to defend the entrance to the cave. The Germans had no machine gun but they used long jets of liquid fire, of red and green color, and it was by the light thus given that the struggle went on. For some minutes the Germans held their ground by piting up their dead so as to form a barriands but at last our machine run drove them back and they riende but at last our machine gan drove them back and they were then attacked and driven out by another of our detach-ments which arrived in the nick of time."

SHIPPING AUTOS ON FLAT CARS

The Buick Motor Co. of Flint, Michigan, shipped a whole trainland of Buick automobiles to the Cinciniati branch. These automobile: nati branch. These automobiles were shipped on flat cars accered with paper and tarpaulin. This was due to the shortuge of box cars, as there are not near enough hox curs to ship the automobiles in, as so many are tied up in the East. These automobiles had to be policed all the way to Cincinnati, and these cars way to Cincinnati, and these cars in the Cincinnati district. R. S Prichard secured one carload which

Cadillac Has New Device

Every motorist who operates his Every motorist who operates his ear in winter knows the annoying ance of the "warming up" period which must follow starting the engine after it has stood overnight in a rold garage or for several hours on the street. So the device on the Cadillac Eight which facilitates warming up is of interest to all motorists.

This device exercises a thermo static control over the fluid in the other motor car developments was inaugurated by Cadillac con-pany. The thermostats, of which there are two—one for each block of cylinders—operate in connec-tion with valves which open and close as the thermostats expand and contract with heat and cold. When the engine and radiator are cold, the valves are closed and the water in the radiator is practically out off from that in the water jackets of the evlinders. After the engine is started, the liquid surrounding the cylinder blocks rises in temperature and the thermostat valves oper

To equal the Cadillac is the universal ambition

There is great grafification for the Cadillac owner in this fact:

That the highest aim of the serious-minded manufacturer is to approximate Cudillac performance.

Conscionsly or unconsciously, engineers are constantly inspired by the characteristics which distinguish the Cadillac Eight-Cylinder engine.

Consciously or unconsciously, automobile salesmanship—both oral and printed—endeavors to emphasize the claim that other cars possess these Cadillac qualities.

Consciously or unconsciously, that salesmanship continually endeavors to emphasize the very things for which the Cadillac engine is famous.

Other types sometimes claim equality and sometimes superiority, but, consciously or unconsciously, it is always the Cadillac standard which they claim to equal or to surpas

Fewer cylinders or more cylinders, they apparently have but one criterion, and that is the Cadillac V-type Eight-Cylinder criterion—forgetful of the fact that the high development of the Cadillac engine is only one fine phase of Cadillac perform-

It is well to remember that this has always been true-since the infant days of the industry.

Cadillac quality and Cadillac performance have frequently been on the very verge of being surpassed-according to the enthusiastic advertising and salesmanship of other ears.

The Cadillac market has always been ABOUT to be taken by storm,

But, somehow, the Cadillac market continues to increase in volume and in enthusiasm, year after year.

Meanwhile, ambitious aspirants for comparison with the Cadillau have fallen away-one by one-and taken their places in a

The simple truth is, that the beautiful riding qualities which make the Cadillac owner almost forget that he is in a motor ear, represent the very uttermost that has yet been accomplished.

WHILE THE SUN SHINES

There will be ready and it is to be hoped altogether general asquiesence with the dictum of the Huntington Advertiser that nothing is going to be done by speculating on what is going to be done when the war ends.

Certainly not., None, in the first place, know when the war is going to end, they can't even make a reasonably safe guess. It may be over tomorrow, next year, or three or a dozen years hence. Once there was a war between the principalities and dukedoms that now compose the kingdom and republics fighting each other, that lasted, so history tells us, for thirty years and a day. May be the present difficulty will not hang on that long, but from present appearances is going on until some one goes broke. It is quite as unprofitable to surmise on what is going to happen then. The ringing down of the curtain on the belligerents will, undoubtedly, disarrange conditions, but it isn't going to be altogether destructive to the business and progress of the world, not at all, for the world will have to take up the task of re-building almost one-half of it-self, more than that in developed wealth. So there is no call to speculate. The thing is to improve each shining movement. Right now these forty-eight separate and distinct states, sovereign and independent, are enjoying the most tremendous commercial and industrial activity since they became one and indivisible. That is the thing for the citizen to dwell upon, it is his mission to hay sunshine and, more than that, like the the prudent husband save the hay by putting it away while the sun still continues to shine. Make all you can and save more than you ever did and speculation can be thrown to the dogs in so far as it concerns you.

THE RULE YOU'LL LIKE

Quite a number of persons have within a short time ordered The Times sent them by mail. They are quite surprised to learn that the paper would not be mailed to even John Rockefeller himself unless it were paid for in advance. That is the rule with The Times and it is invariable. In so far as the journalistic situation here in Portsmouth is concerned it is the demarkation between the success and failure. The Times has held steadfast by it for a decade, it is here today; three other papers have tried the credit system, sent the paper to anyone that orders it and take pay when he gets ready, they are all numbered among the missing.

We find when our patrons become used to the rule they like it and would no longer agree to a change if we suggested it. It proves out every day that short settlement makes long friends. Publish ing a bigger and better paper than is common, we are compelled not only to get our money, but to get more than the next paper. Thousands have continued year after year to willingly and promptly pay us the more, and one great reason is they get just what they pay for, no more, no less. For under our cash system every mail subscriber is notified two weeks before of the expiration of his term. If he renews with the cash, well and good, his paper goes on; if he does not remit, well and good also, his paper is stopped. He isn't having something imposed on him he did not want, and later on we are not going to come around and demand payment for something not ordered of as.

HER WINNING WAYS

Mrs. James M. Helm, "Lexington's richest woman," died the first of the week, her life having gone a few years over fifty. When she was somewhat advanced in years, Mrs. Helm a clear road to wealth opened before her. She quit her occupation as school maria in the Kentucky mountains and went down to Lexington and started business for berself, adopting the firm name of J. M. Hanson. It didn't seem nuch of a business she engaged in, that of newspaper and magazine subscription agency, but she clearly saw possibilities in it that none others dreamed of. She extended her operations to every one of the more than sixty thousand nost offices in the country and hundreds of thousands became her customers. Her estate inventories well over a million-

The opening of new business houses, the constant inquiries for property in the business section, coupled with activity in real estate, are indications that Portsmouth is constantly developing.

Real estate operations are mostly confined to sale of residential lots and the transfer of dwelling houses. Scarcely better operations could be desired. The town needs expansion in this particular direction, it being noted not alone for its compactness but rather for the overcrowding of its houses. Further than that he ownership of home, as has been so often said without losing its point, makes for stability and orderliness. Adding to the indications noted, the conditions that the slice factories have their biggest year at hand and the steel mills are running on top capacity and plenty of orders ahead, the outlook as we cuter upon the spring of 1916 is altogether cheerful, not even the incident that it is a presidential year promises to bring any nucertainty and dull-

APPALLING TOLL OFTIENTHESIA

Paris, France, March 4--- It was announced at the French ministry of marine that there were nearly 4000 men abound the French auditary to when shower sent in the Mediterranean on February 26. As the ministry of marine announced February 29 that the number of survivors of the Provence disaster was estimated at 870 it is indicated by the foregoing dispatch that upwards of 3130 lives were lost. At Malta 296 survivors were landed and four hundred were landed at Milo. The Provence sank in the middle of the Mediterranean.

The loss of more than three thousand lives in the sinking of the French auxiliary cruiser Provence is the greatest ocean disaster of modern times. Up to the present the largest number of lives ever lost in one wreck was when the White Star liner Titanic struck an iceberg off the Newfoundland banks on April 14, 1912, and sank with a death loss of 1,595. The rescued numbered 743.

The Provence was one of the largest and finest of the F line vessels. Her gross tonnage was 13,753. She was built at St. Nazatre in 1906, was 602 feet 65 feet beam and 68 feet deep. She was requisitioned by the French government for naval service at the outbreak of the war.

Rochelle, France, March 4.—The French steamship Laking, of Dunkirk, 3,117 tons gross, which sailed from La Rochella on Tuesday, was sunk on the same day in the Bay of Biscay, at a point six miles northwest of He d'Yeu. She is believed to have struck a mine. Six of the 22 men of the crew lost their lives.

Columbus, O., March 4.—Baby week celebration began in Columbus today with the distribution of 4,500 flags to homes where babics have come during the last year. Boy Scouts will deliver the flags blue for the girls and red for the boys. The city board of health and other public institutions assisted the campaign for better babies by the distribution f literature. As a reminder that this is the week for babies, large posters lettered "Columbus Baby Week," and hearing the photograph of a fat, laughing Columbus baby have been distributed about the city to be hung in the windows of homes and placed in store windows.

WHILE THE SUN SHINES

There will be ready and it is to be hoped altogether general asquiesence with the dictum of the Huntington Advertiser, that nothing is going to be done by speculating on what is going to be done when the war ends.

Certainly not. None, in the first place, know when the war is going to end, they can't even make a reasonably safe guess. It may be over tomorrow, next year, or three or a dozen years hence. Once there was a war between the principalities and dukedoms that now compose the kingdom and republics fighting each other, that lasted, so history tells us, for thirty years and a day. May be the present difficulty will not hang on that long, but from present appearances is going on until some one goes broke. It is quite as unprofitable to surmise on what is going to happen then. The ringing down of the curtain on the belligerents will, undoubtedly, disarrange conditions, but it isn't going to be altogether destructive to the business and progress of the world, not at all, for the world will have to take up the task of re-building almost one-half of itself, more than that in developed wealth. So there is no call to speculate. The thing is to improve each shining movement. Right now these forty-eight separate and distinct states, sovereign, and independent, are enjoying the most tremendous commercial and industrial activity since they became one and indivisible. That is the thing for the citizen to dwell upon, it is his mission to hav sunshine and, more than that, like the the prudent husband save the hay by putting it away while the sun still continues to shine. Make all you can and save more than you ever did and speculation can be thrown to the dogs in so far as it concerns you.

THE RULE YOU'LL LIKE

Quite a number of persons have within a short time ordered The Times sent them by mail. They are quite surprised to learn that the paper would not be mailed to even John Rockefeller, himself unless it were paid for in advance. That is the rule with The Times and it is invariable. In so far as the journalistic situation here in Portsmouth is concerned it is the demarkation between the success and failure. The Times has held steadfast by it for a de cade, it is here today; three other papers have tried the credit system, sent the paper to anyone that orders it and take pay when he gets ready, they are all numbered among the missing.

We find when our patrons become used to the rule they like it and would no longer agree to a change if we suggested it. It proves out every day that short settlement makes long friends. Publish ing a bigger and better paper than is common, we are compelled not only to get our money, but to get more than the next paper. Thousands have continued year after year to willingly and promptly pay us the more, and one great reason is they get just what they pay for, no more, no less. For under our cash system every mail subscriber is notified two weeks before of the expiration of his term. If he renews with the cash, well and good, his paper goes on; if he does not remit, well and good also, his paper is stopped. He isn't having something imposed on him he did not want, and later on we are not going to come around and demand payment for something not ordered of us.

HER WINNING WAYS

Mrs. James M. Helm, "Lexington's richest woman," died the first of the week, her life having gone a few years over fifty. When she was somewhat advanced in years, Mrs. Helm a clear road to wealth opened before her. She quit her occupation as school marm in the Kentucky mountains and went down to Lexington and started business for herself, adopting the firm name of J. M. Hanson. It didn't seem much of a business she engaged in, that of newspaper and magazine subscription agency, but she clearly saw possibilities in it that none others dreamed of. She extended her operations to every one of the more than sixty thousand post offices in the country and hundreds of thousands became her customers. Her estate inventories well over a million-

POLLY AND HER PALS

MOVING RIGHT ALONG

The opening of new business houses, the constant inquiries for property in the business section; coupled with activity in real estate, are indications that Portsmouth is constantly developing.

Real estate operations are mostly confined to sale of residential lots and the transfer of dwelling houses. Scarcely better operations could be desired. The town needs expansion in this particular direction, it being noted not alone for its compactness, but rather for the overcrowding of its houses. Further than that the ownership of home, as has been so often said without losing its point, makes for stability and orderliness. Adding to the indications noted, the conditions that the shoe factories have their higgost year at hand and the steel mills are running on top, capacity and plenty of orders ahead, the outlook as we enter spring of 1916 is altogether cheerful, not even the incident that it is a presidential year promises to bring any uncertainty and dall-
